

NEW SIDEWALKS FOR HOULTON

Walks on Two Thoroughfares to be Built This Year

The special town meeting called for Friday last, was well attended, and the needs of additional walks on the Main thoroughfares of the town, as well as the other streets, were clearly expressed.

After reading the call Chas. Carroll, Esq., was elected moderator.

While the explicit call of the meeting was for a concrete sidewalk on Bangor street from Union Square to the B. & A. depot, the importance and need of one from the Elks building to the C. P. depot was also plainly expressed.

The cost of the sidewalk in addition to the foundation as near as could be estimated, for a walk from Union Sq. to the B. & A. depot would be about $7,000 and Mr. Peabody thought that $3,000 would put in the foundation and curbing. The cost of the Main street section was not estimated but it was thought that the same amount would be sufficient to build from the Elks Club to the C. P. depot.

It was voted to build the walk from Union Sq. to the B. & A. depot and the selectmen were authorized to raise $20,000, by a loan or loans for this purpose, with instructions to use the amount left from the B. & A. walk for building a cement walk to the C. P. R. depot and if, after these walks had been built there was any money unexpended to use the balance for a cement walk on Kendall street.

While this is a large amount to spend in one year for this purpose, it is something which is much needed, as first impressions of strangers coming into town means a whole lot and as each of these walks is used by about 200 people every day the town has done a wise thing. While there are many more streets which are much in need of new walks, these will be much appreciated and more should be built another year.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION

The speaking contest of the H. H. S. Juniors took place in the Auditorium on Tuesday evening of last week, and was largely attended.

The program was an unusually fine one, with musical selections by the school orchestra and vocal selections by Mrs. Hughes, Miss Cleveland, Mr. Archibald.

Those who attended the exhibition pronounce it one of the best ever given by the school.

The decision of the judges as to the prize winners was arrived at after considerable deliberation, and was as follows:

1st prize, Ivory Munro.
2nd prize, Anna Hovey.
3rd prize, Fred Blöthen.
Honorable mention, Stella Gosman.

CHILD WELFARE WEEK

In the recent great world war between Germany and the allies, the warring countries early recognized the need of conserving child life, and experts were set to work to study methods whereby this might be accomplished. During the week of May 6, in Washington, there was held a conference which was attended by experts from the foreign countries as well as some of the leading men and women of the U. S. and the chief object of this conference was to find out what the war has taught the world concerning the health, education and work of children. Soon after this, regional conferences were held in various parts of the U. S. in order that the truths learned might be spread abroad throughout the country.

Requests for local Child Welfare Associations were sent out everywhere. In response to these requests a local Child Welfare Association was formed in Houlton, and it is expected that much good will come from the work.

One of the first duties of the Association will be the carrying out of a "Child Welfare Conference" week with weighing and measuring of babies, such as was so successfully conducted last summer, under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. This program will be observed the week of July 20-26. Everyone will be interested and want to help in this splendid reconstruction movement.

Watch for posters and later announcements.

LAWN PARTY A SUCCESS

The Lawn Party given on the beautiful grounds of the Madigan Hospital, was a great success from every standpoint and over $500 was cleared for the hospital.

During the afternoon, games were enjoyed, refreshments served, and at 6 o'clock, a chicken supper was served to a large number.

Much credit was due the committee which was composed of Miss McMann, head nurse, who had associated with her Josie Callahan, Winnie Donovan, Mrs. J. A. Donovan, Ella Crowe and Miss Brooks, Mrs. J. C. Pierce, Mrs. J. C. Madigan, Mrs. Jas. Dougherty, Mrs. C. H. McCluskey, Miss Alice Madigan, Miss Etta Smith, Mrs. Anna Wilson.

The committee wishes to thank all those who contributed in any way to make the affair such a success.

CHADWICK-BOLSTRIDGE

Houlton friends will be pleased to learn of the marriage of John G. Chadwick and Miss Myrtle Bolstridge which occurred last Wednesday at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. Thomas White-side officiating.

Mrs. Chadwick for some time has been the efficient matron at the Arrostook hospital and during her residence here she has made many friends.

Mr. Chadwick is too well known here to need any introduction, for 35 years he has been engaged in the contracting business and many of our finest buildings are products of his skill.

They will reside in Mr. Chadwick's beautiful home on High street. The best wishes of their friends are extended for a continued happiness.

HOULTON BOYS RETURN

Sergeants Robert H. Williams and Orville H. Orcutt, arrived home from France on Sunday, having made the trip from Boston by automobile.

They were members of the famous Reserve Mallet, a France-American organization, engaged in motor transport service. This organization participated in eight engagements, out of eleven, in which American troops were employed. They saw some hard work but happily are returning well and un-injured.

WHAT HORSE RACING FANS HAVE IN STORE

A New Plan for the Races July 3 and 4

"Thanks to the management of Combination Park the three-heat method of racing trotters and pacers, and completing the afternoon's sport between the hours of 2.30 p. m. and 5.15 p. m., received its first half-mile track trial in New England last week, and if the verdict is left to the grandstand and quarter-stretch public, the shorter system of harness racing is all that is claimed for it, even more.

Not only did the Combination Park management hold fast to its promise to permit the race patrons to "Crank Motors at Five-Fifteen," but, through the medium of the three-heat plan, in which pro rata of the purse is raced for each heat, each and every heat developed a spirited contest. In a majority of the heats in which the contesting horses were closely matched the finishes bordered on the sensational. One horse was not carrying the favorite one heat and another leap-frogging him in the next. On the contrary, every starter was playing the game, each for himself, racing honestly. The laying up of heats was conspicuous by its absence.

And at the end of each race the contesting horses were cooled out and put away, ready for another race day, their racing usefulness unimpaired, a condition not possible had the three-in-five method of racing been in vogue and the heats been split, necessitating five, six or even seven heats to determine which of a tired field could out-gamble the logical winner.

When the grandstand and the quarter-stretch put their approval upon harness racing, then—and only then—will the sport of trotting endure and prosper. Then—and only then—will it be possible to race for worth-while purses of lower entry and to recruit new campaigning owners.

Racing such as was had at Combination Park last week should furnish much food for thought for the campaigners who are making the Bay State Circuit and fair circuits of New England possible.

The three-heat system is not letter perfect. Nor does it supply the un-failing panacea for all the ills, real and imagined, to which the harness turf is heir. It is, however, a soothing relief from the fatigues of three-in-five racing.

(American Horse Breeder)
The races here on July 3rd and 4th will be run off under this plan and much interest is being shown by drivers and owners.

CHIEF HOGAN HAS

LOSS BY FIRE

Fire visited the home of chief of police Hogan, on Smyrna street, early Wednesday forenoon and between fire, smoke and water, the damage to his home amounted to several hundred dollars.

The blaze started from an unknown cause in the attic and quite a large hole was burned through the roof before the firemen succeeded in getting it under control.

Mr. Hogan says that for several days previous no fire had been used in his kitchen, and he is at a loss to know how the blaze started.

B. & A. TRAIN SERVICE NOT TO BE CHANGED

The announcement of a proposed curtailed train service on the B. & A. beginning June 30, was received here, and other Arrostook towns with much disapproval, especially so, by the trainmen who live in this section.

The proposed change would of necessity take men away from their homes the entire week, while other crews of the trains taken off would need to do other work, and as the men began to think and talk it over their disapproval increased.

On Monday last, a committee of Brotherhood trainmen went to Bangor to meet the officials of the road with a vigorous protest, and the conference which was a lengthy one resulted in a decision to allow the present train service to remain in full force.

This will mean that trains No. 3 and 4, will run from Bangor to Houlton with the Ashland branch trains as usual to accommodate the large number who patronize it.

Remember the change of time effective Monday, June 30, but no change in the train service.

Mrs. Fred Nevins of Portland, a former resident of this town, and Mrs. C. L. Harvey of Patten, were in town one day last week calling on friends.

Gov. Milliken was in town Thursday on his way to Fort Kent, where he and his staff were in attendance at the Graduating exercises of the Madawaska Training school.

H. H. S. BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS

A large audience filled the H. H. S. Auditorium on Sunday evening to listen to the most excellent address given by Rev. Fr. P. M. Silke, before the graduating class of the Houlton High School.

Upon the stage were seated the ministers from each church in town, the Prin. of the school, W. G. Hoyt and Supt. T. P. Packard.

Miss Pride officiated at the piano as the class, numbering 49, were conducted to their seats by marshal Herschel Bull.

Rev. H. C. Speed opened the exercises with a short invocation which was followed by a vocal solo by Mr. Wilford Fullerton, Rev. Thos. White-side read the Scripture, and Rev. E. C. Jenkins delivered prayer. A beautiful solo by Mr. J. J. Marriott was heard, after which, Fr. Silke occupied the platform for an hour, holding the interest of his audience by his eloquence and sound advice to the class, he urged the class to measure up to the high standards which had been set before them, speaking of the many sacrifices made by the parents, that they might enjoy the privilege of a good education, and pointed to the urgent need of big men and women in the struggle of lives and especially just at this crisis of the world's history. He enjoined the class to take every advantage of furthering their education and to live, clean, chaste lives.

Benediction by Rev. H. Scott Smith closed the evening's exercises.

GETTING READY FOR THE FOURTH

A feverish activity is evident all about town with preparation for the big celebration, decorators are busy fixing up; the big Victory Arch in Market Square is nearly completed and will be a handsome affair. The platforms in Monument Park are ready for the school children's pageant.

The Parade Committee are enthusiastic over the ready response of the merchants with floats for the parade which promises to be the largest and best ever seen here.

A real War Tank has been secured and has arrived here. A tank with a history, one that has seen service in the Chateau Thierry drive and will be an intensely interesting sight for visitors.

At the race track Secretary Saunders has made many changes, which will be appreciated by the public.

Already there is lots of action there, with the Ferris Wheel and Ocean Wave already in place, a brand new Merry-Go-Round to be placed and the best field of trotters to be found in this section awaiting the word, all promises a fine time for everybody.

PRINCIPAL HOYT RESIGNS

W. G. Hoyt who has been principal of the Houlton High School during the past year, has resigned to accept the Superintendent of Schools in the Ashland District.

During his stay in Houlton, Prof. Hoyt, as well as Mrs. Hoyt have made many friends, who regret their departure, but the opening which he has accepted will mean a broader scope of work, and returning to Ashland where for a number of years he was principal of the High school, will be pleasant for his family.

Among the out of state automobile parties visiting in Houlton last week, were a Quebec party in a monster Pierce-Arrow car, another party from Oregon.

Kingsbury B. Piper, Deputy Collector of Internal revenue, stationed at Bangor, has been making a trip through Arrostook and stopped in Houlton on the way.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT R. C. I.

Interesting Service for Boys Who Lost Their Lives

Hon. Chas. P. Barnes was the principal speaker at the memorial services at Ricker, which were held at the "yard" on Tuesday afternoon, and were most impressive as well as interesting.

There were present the scholars, alumni and many friends, including representatives of the boys who gave their lives in the service.

James Jackins of the class of 1915 presided. Dr. Whittemore of Waterville offered prayer. Mrs. Beatrice (Brown) Rideout class of 1901 recited Colonel MacCrea's "In Flanders Field," and Mr. Barnes of the class of 1888, delivered a memorial oration.

Mr. Barnes said in part:

"Not with their shields returning victors in the war; three on their shields, borne home, to be laid at rest on the hill sides, which their childhood feet but yesterday caressed; five buried on the field under their victorious arms, they sleep the long long sleep, children of Ricker."

Today their Spartan mother not with wailing and with habiliments of grief, not with ceremony funeral and the music of the Dead March, but with the tender pride of one, who at a sacrifice all but mortal has woven her jewels in the victor's crown, our mother sits today on this sun crowned hill counting her jewels, counting them o'er.

He then read the well known letter of President Lincoln to the Massachusetts mother of five sons slain, and voiced the duty of all good Americans to perpetuate the memory of the "loved and lost."

He read the roster of the sons and daughters of Ricker, who gave their lives during the late war, commenting upon the honorable record, which shows that from an enlistment of less than 90, eight gave their lives for its cause, as follows:

Lieut. Frank Holden, resident of Oakfield, Me., class of 1918, Co. L, 103rd, enlisted April, 1917. Second Regt. band, promoted to second lieutenant. Died in hospital.

Sergeant Leon Graham, enlisted in 1917 in Montana, class of 1910. Died, Camp Quantico, Virginia.

Pvt. A. Lee Ferguson, Mapleton, Me. class of 1904, June 26, 1917, 26th Batt. Scotch Killies, Canadian, Transferred to Royal MacLean Highlanders. Died Branshott, Eng., Oct. 26, 1918.

Maine Food Adm. Ruby I. Barker, Houlton, Me., class of 1904. Died, Pittsfield, Me.

Pvt. Lester J. Lurvey, Northeast Harbor, Me., class of 1911, Co. D, Fifth Machine Gun Battalion. Killed in action, Oct. 2, 1918. Buried, Blanc, Mont. (Champagne), France.

Nurse Violet Robinson, Houlton, Me. class of 1909. Drafted as nurse, and awaiting orders to sail overseas. Died, Gardiner, Me., 1918.

Pvt. Raymond E. Pond, class of 1909, Co. D, 58th Inf., Fourth Division. Killed in action, Meuse-Argonne, Oct. 7, 1918. Family living at 50 Parker street, Bangor, Me.

Pvt. Colin B. Tracy, a resident of Amity, Me., class of 1906, Co. L, 103rd, enlisted April 13, 1917. Killed in action, Nov. 3, 1918.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Arrostook Potato Growers' Assn. was held in Houlton on Wednesday last.

The old board of officers were elected with a few minor changes.

It was the sense of the meeting that the Arrostook Potato Growers' Assn. affiliate with the Arrostook Federation of Farmers as both organizations are working along the same lines.

There will be a meeting of the Federation in Caribou on July 14, when final steps towards consolidation will take place.

Those present from out of town were: E. T. McGlauffin and F. E. Libby of Presque Isle; L. E. Tuttle, Geo. V. Brown, S. E. Griffin, Caribou; Mr. Peterson, New Sweden; Alfred Noyes, Limestone; F. S. Robinson, Sherman; T. B. Bradford, Golden Ridge; Frank Jewett Island Falls; Arthur Sylvester, Mars Hill; Mr. Cyr, Grand Isle.

HOULTON BOYS PRAISED AND HONORED

At the Commencement dinner held at Bowdoin last week, a number of Houlton boys were highly praised for their work in the U. S. Army.

This Commencement was known as the Victory Commencement and at the dinner which was attended by over 600 alumni the military spirit was predominant and many uniforms were seen on the campus.

The after dinner speakers, among whom were Frank A. Munsey of Munsey's Magazine, Gen'l Cole of the 26th Division, Col. Pierce of the 336th U. S. Infantry and Col. F. M. Hume of the 103rd.

These speakers made reference to the fact that Bowdoin sent 1200 men into the service, the largest number according to the size of any college in the U. S. and special mention was made to the excellent work of Walter A. Powers, son of Mrs. Mattie Powers, Brookline, during his service with the Marines, and also of the excellent work of Major Roland E. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Clark of this town.

Lee M. Friedman received a certificate of graduation being still in the Navy.

Col. Hume as one of the speakers, made a most interesting speech and was received most heartily.

At a meeting of the Boards, held on Monday, Jas. L. Doherty Esq., a former Houlton boy and who is now one of the leaders of the Massachusetts bar, living in Springfield, was elected to the Board of Overseers.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION MEETING

The annual meeting of the Arrostook County Anti-Tuberculosis Association was held Friday forenoon at 10 o'clock in Municipal Hall.

E. L. Cleveland of Houlton was re-elected President; C. C. Harvey of Ft. Fairfield, Secretary and Mrs. Arthur Reynolds of Presque Isle Treasurer. The other members of the Board were also re-elected.

The presence of a considerable number of physicians from Presque Isle, Houlton and other towns, afforded encouraging evidence of the interest the medical profession is taking in the campaign to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, and to mitigate the effects of the scourge.

The physicians present took occasion to comment in terms of the highest praise upon the efficient and even heroic work that has been performed by Miss Edith Knight, the District Nurse during the past year. To the ordinary duties of her position, always exacting, has been added the past year the demands that were made upon her time and strength by the influenza epidemic. In this emergency Miss Knight has shown intelligence, courage and devotion to duty of the highest order, and the Association testified that its membership and the public owed her a debt of gratitude for her courageous and unselfish labor.

In very proper recognition of the value of her services Miss Knight was re-elected at an increase of salary, and it is hoped in the coming year to extend the scope of the work of the Association, and cover more territory.

To this end the education of the people to the importance of the work that is being done, and measures to strengthen it and make it a more effective agency in its field are of the utmost importance.

The Association is fortunate in being able to secure a continuance of the service of its President, Mr. E. L. Cleveland, and other members of the Board, all of whom are able and zealous in the cause of combatting the tuberculosis scourge.—Star-Herald.

CAN THE UNITED STATES ANNEX CANADA?

No, Says Canadian, Since Dominion Owns Heavily in Great Britain, Pfd

(By a Canadian)

As a Canadian, imbued with the modesty which is our national failing I would, of course, much rather put the question in this form: "Will Canada eventually annex the United States?" or at least "Can the United States annex Canada?"

It is a hopeful sign of the times when no one seriously propounds that ridiculous question any more—no one, that is, on this side of the Atlantic. German trouble-makers, however, seem to be reviving it in their attempt to split America and Britain, in which efforts they are supported, as F. N. Doubleday pointed out in his article in the New York Times of April 6, on German anti-British propaganda, by some of the cheap English papers.

Several countries saw red a decade ago, when that question obtruded itself in the hot-headed language of opportunist politicians Canada perhaps most of all, for it had the greatest stake at issue. Of course, strictly speaking, the United States has already tried to "annex" Canada by force of arms, three times to be exact, each time with signal failure, a fact that most American histories ignore. But the only people who really believe the "annexation" scare are the English, and then only because they are imperfectly acquainted with the facts.

From the English point of view there is of course a very real danger in this "Americanization of Canada." It has taken them a tremendous time to realize that Canada—or, for that matter, any part of the British Empire—is not a duplicate England. Somewhat inconsistently, in view of the fact that by and large the English people are the greatest apostles of the doctrine of the self-determination of free peoples, they have rather scorned the idea that Canada, Australia, South Africa, &c., must necessarily from the start, because of radically different environments, have evolved a different set of economic and political institutions. They have tended to regard their overseas Dominions as "colonies" rather than democracies, and it really needed the war, with its hundreds of thousands of "Cajonian" soldiers diffusing themselves all over the British Isles to reveal the fact that these clean, bright, happy young men came from fully developed civilizations that were, apparently self-contained, self-respecting and fully developed, rather than yearning, wistful appendages useful only for sending the black sheep of the family to.

In the case of Canada, the lines of departure from the original stock are, perhaps, the most accentuated. Australia, an island continent, colors the whole Pacific atmosphere rather than absorbs any other environment color. South Africa is bordered up by inferior races who exercise no cultural influence upon the white. But Canada, the strongest card and senior partner in the British Empire, is too "American" for the average English taste. Why the English are afraid they might lose Canada is because they realize that they have already lost it in one sense. They have lost it to the American spirit—or let me rather say, to the North American spirit, for I cannot see that the temperature in North America is any different on either side of the international boundary, or that it would have been different even supposing Canada had the hundred-million population instead of eight millions.

There is a certain type of Englishman, as everybody knows, who affects to dislike anything that is too "American." That class of person looks at Canada and sees there everything he abhors. He sees Canada, for instance, using the American currency instead of pounds, shillings and pence—the only section of the British Empire, outside of native countries like India, where the beloved pounds, shillings and pence are not universal. He sees Canadians yet from the British Isles, its campaign will outside of a small one in Scandinavian Europe, be concentrated in the United States, which is the only country now available with agricultural inhabitants of non-enemy nationality to spare.

Canada and the United States exchange merchandise to a very considerable extent. Last year this exchange totaled $1,214,000, the only fly in the ointment from the Canadian point of view being that it was in the ratio of five to three against Canada. This condition, however, Canada hopes by aggressive trade methods to reverse, or at least reduce. But the two countries also exchange men. Any large American city will yield its quota of good Canadians, most of them apparently holding down good jobs. Boston, they say, has more Nova Scotians than Halifax. You ask Admiral Sims or Secretary Franklin K. Lane where they were born, and you will find that both hailed from north of the border. Conversely you will find Lord Shaughnessy, until recently president of one of the richest and most powerful industrial organizations in the world, the Canadian Pacific railway, though now a naturalized British subject, came from Milwaukee.

During the last ten years, out of a total immigration into Canada of roughly 2,300,000, over 35 per cent were from the United States. During those years, 880,000 Americans entered Canada, slightly more than the total number of British immigrants during the same period. Since August, 1914, European immigration has practically stopped, but over 2,000,000 Americans—most of them—have entered the United States since that time. The British Empire, and their disregard for the foolish German propaganda that strove in many parts of the United States to stem this tide by disseminating "news" that American farmers' emigrating to Canada would be conscripted to fight England's battles and have their farms confiscated to pay for them, by crossing that nebulous border line between Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, and Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

With the exhaustion of free land in the United States and a rather sudden rise in land values, Northwestern Canada is in fact the only "last great west" remaining for the American. It is to be expected that very early in its "reconstruction" era Canada will again launch an active immigration campaign, and it is certainly very generally felt throughout the Dominion that in view of the possible difficulty in getting agricultural immigrants—which are all Canada wants yet—from the British Isles, its campaign will outside of a small one in Scandinavian Europe, be concentrated in the United States, which is the only country now available with agricultural inhabitants of non-enemy nationality to spare.

Americans now form 40 per cent of the total foreign-born population of Canada; the western province of Alberta has nearly 25 per cent of its entire population American born. And to show what Americans feel about it themselves, 42 per cent of all American males in Canada over the age of 18 are naturalized Canadians—a higher percentage than in the case of any other nationality except the Danish, a very negligible factor. It would seem, therefore, that, rather than Americans "invading" Canada, Canada is busily engaged in "Canadianizing" Americans.

The only possible reason why Canada might be annexed is its heterogeneous population. Where the United States has only one political consciousness—i. e., American—Canada has at least three. First, the native English-speaking Canadian stock, mostly descendants of those "United Empire Loyalists" who shook the dust of the United States from their shoes in disgust after that affair in 1775, and emigrated to Canada because they liked George III. There are thousands of these. Secondly, the French-Canadians of Quebec Province, descendants of those hardy explorers who had already established settlements in Canada before the Pilgrim Fathers sailed from England. England won Canada from France in 1759, and with it these French-Canadians, of whom there are now over two millions. Thirdly, the British immigrants, of whom there are about 800,000, mostly prejudiced in favor and loud in praise of Great Britain. And to these a possible fourth party, the foreign-born, including the Americans, each party has its own ideals and theories of political and economic life, out of which come many "rash" and internal recriminations that under some circumstances would be fertile ground for a very powerful "annexation" campaign.

But whether Canada wants to leave the British Empire let its war record show. Canada was not, as most Americans think, automatically at war as soon as and because Great Britain was. On the contrary, Canada had to go through the formality of asking Great Britain to accept its assistance. It did this on Aug. 4, 1914. The first Canadian contingent of 23,000 men sailed in October, 1914. By voluntary enlistment Canada raised 466,000 men by conscription, 195,000, and to the Royal Flying Corps, the naval force, and various imperial forces it contributed 21,000, a total, plus 15,000 British and allied reservists recalled to join their own colors, equivalent to nearly eight per cent of the total population of the country. These figures do not include 2,500 Canadian nurses Canadian casualties amounted to 218,000, nearly 40 per cent of the force. Since the war began the Canadian government has borrowed in domestic war loans $1,436,000,000, or more than four and a half times its net public debt of 1914. In war loans alone Canada owes each of its inhabitants, every man, woman and child, about $192.

A member of the firm who is contemplating retiring from it does not usually quadruple his investments in it.

Vampire Wants a Job

Recently the L. P. Ross Shoe Company inserted an advertisement in a Rochester paper for vampires and close-ups. Among the answers received was one from a young lady who signed herself Miss Mabelle Jones and gave her address as General Delivery, Rochester. The letter said in part:

"Gentlemen: I have seen your ad for vampires and close-ups and I would like the job. I have been studying to vamp for several years and have been practising eye work for a long while. My gentlemen friends tell me that I have the other movie vamps backed off the map. I have made a particular study of Theda Bara. I don't know much about close-ups, but suppose I could learn. I have a good form, swell brown eyes, and a fine complexion."

"If you would like, I will call and show you what I can do. I have been

The Windrow Hay Loader For Hilly Land

Have you seen the single cylinder hay loader that we have on hand at our store? If not, we want you to drop in and see it the first chance you get. It is the lightest draft hay loader. In fact, one man can pull it a short distance on level land, delivering a fair-sized windrow onto the wagon.

The drum is mounted on the axle. There are no gears. The loading parts are slowly driven, the hay compression parts automatically yielding, and the frame is mounted on the wheels in such a manner that the loader pulls easily under a heavy load.

The Dain System Windrow Loader is unusually suitable for hilly land and for handling hay that has been air cured in accordance with the Dain System. This loader will handle beans, alfalfa, clover and other kinds of hay gently, without loss of leaves.

Don't forget that it is on display at our store now.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease. Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. They also. But remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

CIRCUS IN HOULTON

When a big circus using three or four rings is billed to appear, the plaint is often heard that it is impossible to see all that is going on when seated at one end of the tent, and it would be good to see is being missed.

This may be true, where the management of a big show mixes all sorts of acts together in a crazy concoction. But John Robinson's circus which will exhibit in Houlton on Saturday, July 12th afternoon and evening although one of America's largest amusement institutions offer no ground for such a complaint.

The circus program with this organization is made up of what is termed "displays." A display is a series of acts given simultaneously in the rings on the elevated stages in the air and on the hippodrome. Instead of the display being composed of several diverse acts, as is often the case in circuses, John Robinson's Circus displays are made up of acts of the same kind. For instance if a male or female equestrian act is being given in ring No. 1, the very same kind of feature will be found in the other three rings. If a group of aerialists appear at one end of the dome of the great tent, other groups will be presented simultaneously at different points. Thus it is possible for all spectators, no matter where seated to witness practically the same acts at the same time the only difference being in the individuals employed in their presentation.

Dr. S. A. Randall has returned from Bangor, where she has been taking treatment, and her many friends will be glad to know that her health is greatly improved.

Miss Emma Hall arrived home, Saturday, from Providence where she has been attending school. She will spend her summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. B. O. Hall.

AT THE DREAM

Exquisite Humor Abounds in Mary Pickford's Film in "Hulda From Holland"

Never was there anything so funny as when Mary Pickford in the character of the Dutch girl in "Hulda From Holland," a Paramount picture, produced by the Famous Players Lasky Corporation, picks up a two-year-old child who is co-starring with her in the production and hugs him around on her right arm.

With tears in his eyes and stamping his feet, as only a child of two years can, little Haral Hollacher, the little Dutch boy who plays with Mary, absolutely refused to be pictured while in his bathtub. All the coaxing in the world had no effect, until the director said, "Little Mary wants you to do it." And it was necessary to have "the Nation's sweetheart" give the child a bath.

That episode is one of the funniest ever screened. It will be seen in "Hulda From Holland," which will be shown at the Dream Theatre next Saturday.

Bryant Washburn, Popular Paramount

Star Has An Excellent Role in New Photoplay

Bryant Washburn, the popular Paramount star, will be seen in "Venus in the East," one of the most amusing seriocomic pictures of the season, at the Dream Theatre next Thursday. The original was published in the Saturday Evening Post some months ago and the story is by Wallace Irwin. The scenario is by Gardner Hunting, and is fully as entertaining, it is declared, as the original printed version. There are two important feminine roles and these are played by Margery Wilson and Anna Q. Nilsson. Julia Faye also has a fine role and there is a strong cast of players.

Capt. Murray Donnell, son of Mr. Miss Margaret Cowan, in charge of the Presque Isle hospital, who was recently operated on for appendicitis has so far recovered as to be able to go to a position with the Guaranty Trust Co. her home in Woodstock for a month's vacation.

HIGHWAYS OF MAINE RE-NAMED

Roosevelt Memorial Highway Conspicuously Marked

Important changes have been made in the color banding of the poles on through routes of automobile travel in Maine. This work has now been practically completed throughout the entire State as far as the program called for the present year. Ever since March a crew has been on the road, until now the State has been carefully marked from Calais to Kittery, and from the Atlantic seaboard to a point running east and west well above the Northern line of heaviest population. The remaining populous territory not yet covered is Aroostook County, the Rangely region, and the vicinity of Farmington, Rumford, and Sanford, and the Ossipee Trail. From time to time new routes will be added, in addition to those projected, in the territory just named so that when the work is completed every section of Maine will be marked in this splendid manner which has been universally adopted throughout the United States.

The most important changes have been in the re-naming of routes, the color schemes in most cases remaining the same. One of the principal changes was the result of the decision of the Maine Automobile Association to take advantage of the offer to have the new Theodore Roosevelt International Highway terminate in Maine. In order to do this many conferences were held with the projectors of the plan and it was finally decided to have it run from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon. The route in Maine runs from Longfellow Square, Portland, through North Windham, South Casco, Naples, Bridgton and Fryeburg, to the New Hampshire line. Here a group of hotel men are seeing that it is painted across that state via North Conway, Brattleboro, Crawford Notch and Bretton Woods to the Vermont line, where other arrangements have been made to continue it on through Montpelier and Burlington to New York State. From this point it will follow along the Northern tier of States to the Pacific Coast.

The marking in Maine has been completed by the Maine Automobile Association and is decidedly striking. It is a bright red band, flanked top and bottom, with narrow white band, with the initials T. R. showing out boldly in white on the red field.

As this route in Maine formerly bore the name Longfellow Highway it was necessary, when the Roosevelt idea was adopted, to change the former title to some other route as there was a popular demand for one of the roads to be named for Maine's famous poet. The route, therefore, running from Portland to the New Hampshire line, near Gorham and Berlin, N. H., via Gray, Poland Spring, Norway, South Paris, Bryant's Pond, Locke's Mills, Bethel and Gilead, was renamed Longfellow Highway. It was necessary in order to have the name an appropriate one to have the route start at Portland the scene of the poet's birth. The color banding was unchanged. This route was formerly called the Pine Tree Way.

The Capital Way, under the new arrangement, now starts at Gray and continues through Auburn, Lewiston and Winthrop to Augusta.

A new route has been added to be known as the Kennebec-Penobscot Trail, which is to run from Augusta to Belfast, via Palermo and Liberty.

This tremendous work has been planned and carried out under the direction of the Maine Automobile Association, working in conjunction with Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, and the Maine State Highway Commission. Nearly a thousand miles of highway have been covered, and many important changes have been made in the course of the work to improve it. Where it was found that a color did not appear to have the proper quality to stand out clearly, another was substituted. The idea of banding part way around the poles, used in many other states, did not work out to the satisfaction of the officials in charge here and the entire distance around the poles was covered on most routes. The markings were placed at a height where it was believed they could best be seen both day and night. Many difficulties were encountered by A. A. Moody of Oakland, who had the contract for the work. In several places, boys disfigured the bands while the paint was fresh and they had to be repainted. At other times, sudden showers, before they had time to harden, caused them to run. Mr. Moody and his crew worked from daylight until dark in order to complete the contract by this month, which he has done, and he was seriously held back during the early Spring by the rain and wet. The finest quality of paint was used but many of the poles were so old and soft that paint could hardly be made to stay on their surfaces. However, the work on the whole has been highly satisfactory and Maine is being highly commended for doing it.

The complete list of revised routes and their markings are as follows:

No. 1—Atlantic Highway

Marking: Blue band, flanked top and bottom, with narrow white band. Route: Portsmouth, N. H., Kittery, Maine, York Harbor, Kennebunk, Biddeford, Saco, Portland, Biddeford, Bath, Wiscasset, Rockland, Camden, Belfast, Bangor, East Holden, Ellsworth, West Sullivan.

Milbridge, Harrington, Machias, Whiting, Pembroke, So. Robbinston, Calais.

No. 2—Capital Way

Marking: White band and blue band of equal width. Route: Gray, Danville Junction, Auburn, Lewiston, Greene, Winthrop, Augusta.

No. 3—International Trail

Marking: Red band, flanked top and bottom, with narrow white band. Route: Brunswick, Gardiner, Hallowell, Augusta, Vassalboro, Waterville, Fairfield, Skowhegan, Norridgewock, Madison, North Anson, Solon.

(Note—Eventually this marking will be extended to the International boundary line, North of Jackman.)

No. 4—Longfellow Highway

Marking: Yellow band, flanked top and bottom, with narrow white band. Route: Portland, Gray, Sabbathday Lake, Poland Spring, Norway, South Paris, Bryant's Pond, Bethel, New Hampshire State line, near Gorham, N. H.

No. 5—Theodore Roosevelt International Highway

Marking: Red band, flanked top and bottom with narrow white band with initials "T. R." showing white on the red field.

Route: Portland, North Windham, Raymond, Naples, Bridgton, Fryeburg.

No. 6—Umbagog Trail

Marking: White band and yellow band of equal width.

Route: Bethel, Newry, Grafton Notch, Upton, New Hampshire State line on route to Dixville North and Colebrook.

No. 7—Mount Desert Trail

Marking: Yellow band and white band of equal width.

Route: Ellsworth, Mt. Desert Island, Bridge, Bar Harbor.

No. 8—Aroostook Trail

Marking: White band and blue band of equal width.

Route: Fairfield, Pittsfield, Newport, Bangor, Orono, Old Town.

(Note—Eventually this marking will be extended North through the entire length of Aroostook County to Fort Kent.)

No. 9—Poland Spring—White Mountains Trail

Marking: Green band, flanked top and bottom with narrow white band.

Route: Poland Spring, Poland, Webbs Mills, Cooks Mills, Naples.

(Note—Between Naples and Fryeburg follow Theodore Roosevelt International Highway.)

No. 10—Moosehead Trail

Marking: Green band and white band of equal width.

Route: Newport, Dexter, Dover, Foxcroft, Guilford, Monson, Greenville, Greenville Junction.

No. 11—Kennebec—Penobscot Trail

Marking: Orange band and white band of equal width.

Route: Augusta, Palermo, Liberty, Belfast.

Important—Wherever a route turns right or left at a fork, or intersecting road, a pole approaching this point will be marked with an eight inch square of white paint, immediately at the bottom of the color band, and on this will be either the letter R or L. This will indicate whether the route turns to the right or to the left. R indicating right, and L left. This system will be found decidedly simple and effective.

WHAT THE AROOSTOOK FEDERATION OF FARMERS ARE DOING

An important meeting of the Directors of the Aroostook Federation was held at Caribou, June 11, at which considerable business of importance was transacted. Among other things the following resolutions were adopted.

Whereas, the need of cold storage plant or plants within the County is imperative, also the establishment of plants to save and render all animal material which is at present largely wasted, also the need of keeping within the County, pork, beef, eggs and other farm produce for use in the County, thus saving transportation charges both ways, be it Resolved:

That the Aroostook Federation of Farmers desire to encourage and assist by all possible means within their power the establishment of such local plants as may be needed.

The tariff committee reported by its clerk, Jos. E. Hall, that good progress was being made and as soon as the agricultural schedule is reached in the forming of the tariff bill it is proposed to send a delegate to Washington to try and get a tariff on agricultural products.

The enclosed resolutions were also passed and copies sent to our representatives and senators.

Sherman Local held a meeting Thursday at which Secy Brown was present. It was the largest meeting of Farmers held in Sherman for years. About 40 new stockholders were added to their list. This Local has already leased one potato house and secured an option on another and intends to do a big business this fall.

Secy Brown spoke to the farmers of Mapleton, Monday night, June 23, and will speak at Littleton Wednesday, June 25. Several more meetings will be held in the Southern part of the County in the near future to organize Locals.

Resolutions Adopted by the Directors of the Aroostook Federation of Farmers

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

We, the Aroostook Federation of Farmers, representing the six thousand farmers of Aroostook County, respectfully but emphatically protest against the appropriating of $500,000, or of any sum to reclaim swamps, deserts and cut over lands.

Better farms, better homes, better markets are obtainable at less cost in regions already developed. Those already established farms afford better opportunity for service men, farm tenants, hired men now on farms, other farmers or would-be farmers. There are thousands of farms in the State of Maine that can be bought for less than the land cost to clear, and in hundreds of instances for less than the buildings would cost to build. We have better land nearer markets that farmers and would-be farmers would be glad to clear if the land could be bought, and the wood and timber would pay for the clearing.

All men and women who prove capable of farming can be helped to the ownership of an already established farm by means of the already well established federal farm loan system, supplemented by an agricultural bank in each State to finance second mortgages and to supply working capital.

We protest against being taxed to reclaim vast areas of worthless swamps and deserts. Their subsidized products will compete unfairly with our produce, transforming into loss our present meager profit depressing the value of our farms, without corresponding benefit to the subsidized farmers or to the consumers.

If the Congress insists upon the making, the grant against which we emphatically protest, we respectfully demand that the sum applicable to any state be limited strictly to the amount of federal reclamation bonds sold to the citizens of that state. Thus the money shall be used within the State that furnishes it, instead of taking us to send our young people away to distant sections, there to create new competition against ourselves.

Passed unanimously by the Board of Directors, June 11, 1919.

Real "Pot Luck"

A stylishly dressed woman entered the restaurant. The waiter handed her a bill of fare written in French, an adaid: "Please mark off the dishes you wish to order."

Could a woman, dressed in the height of fashion, confess that she was unable to read French? Taking the pencil, she made a few dashes, and the order read:

"Dinner, 2s." "March 20." "Vegetables." "Please pay at the desk." "No tips."

The waiter brought her a beefsteak and chip potatoes, but she did not dare to raise a word in protest.

It realizes the surest way to make money is to prove its usefulness; that the more useful a business is the more successful it must be because it is a greater benefit to mankind.

Today's success of Swift & Company is a measure of the quantity and quality of its usefulness—of the number of people it helps, and the number of ways and the degrees in which it benefits them.

LEST WE FORGET

One is convinced that a most serious mistake was made in selecting a one-man body of American representatives for the Conference. Now that Senator Knox has crystallized the plan of the Senate for prompt action on the real matter of settling the peace and leaving for after-consideration the complicated, and in some cases entangled and staggering, conditions for the League of Nations, it is apparent that if the President had selected one or more of the ablest senators to take part in the negotiations, harmonious conclusions might have been arrived at among the American representatives themselves as to what should be done and what could be done, taking into account the fact that the concurrence of the Senate in whatever was done must eventually be secured.

In the long-drawn-out considerations at the Peace Conference, and in the welter of pulling and hauling from every quarter, which has developed as a result of the perilously protracted delay, there is danger that right thinking on the main points should become twisted and confused.

It is, therefore, a good service which Mr. Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers Record, of Baltimore, has rendered in a recent issue, in an editorial entitled "Lest We Forget." The Manufacturers Record for a long time, and ably, has emphasized the true American point of view regarding the Germans. In the editorial Mr. Edmonds says that the punishment imposed upon Germany is not sufficiently drastic, though Germany is making a great many people feel that it is being harshly dealt with. The safety of the world, he says, can never be secured so long as the German nation, for the next two or three generations at least, is not held in bondage until a new generation is educated away from the German line of thought and taught to realize fully the criminality of the whole nation in bringing on this war. "Unless the delegates to the Peace Conference recognize this fact and act on it entirely without any regard to the maudlin sympathy which a nation of criminals is seeking to win, we may count that the time is not far distant when Germany will again enter upon a world war. All the Peace Conferences and all the Leagues of Nations which can be devised will not be sufficient to control Germany in the future days when war will be made more diabolically hideous than the worst of this war by the power of science concentrating its whole energy upon the creation of methods of destroying armies and cities and nations, unless we impose upon Germany now such penalties as will make that forever impossible."

German War Lust Not Crushed Out

"Any thought that the German people have definitely abandoned the idea of world conquests would indicate a complete lack of knowledge of the German frame of mind. If the German people felt today that they had a reasonable chance of success they would not for one moment hesitate to bring another war with all of its horrors upon the world. To conquer and to loot the world has been the thought of the whole German race for the last two generations. It has been born into the baby's life from its birth, yea, even before its birth. It has been bred in to the very bone and blood of the German race. The recent defeat is not yet accepted by the Germans as any real defeat. All the camouflage which is being put forth as to inability to pay indemnities and to meet the peace terms is hypocritical, and is put out for the express purpose of creating a neurotic sympathy.

"It is safe to count upon the fact that German chemists will for the next few years put forth their utmost power to devise more ways of murdering men and destroying their opponents than Germany ever gave to such a task before. The spirit of the German people will live and thrive in the thought of revenge and of world conquest. In every laboratory chemists will be at work in devising new gases and new forms of destructiveness, and any man who thinks that Germany does not expect some day suddenly to return to the struggle shows little understanding of the German people."

The editorial ends with a quotation from the Paris Matin, of an interview with Mr. Henry Morgenthau, formerly American Ambassador in Constantinople, and who had just returned from a visit to Coblenz. He quotes the Germans on the Rhine as saying that they had renounced for the moment the idea of conquering the world—a world which they wished to dominate because they thought themselves the best guides, constructors, organizers and disciples of culture combating anarchy. They said: "We have misinterpreted, and all our forces are now too much overcome to continue. But our children will blot out the stain, resume our interrupted work. Germany cannot remain conquered. She will find victory again and dominate the world."

The Matin asks, who will believe Morgenthau. Not, it thinks, the Peace Council. "They," it says, "see only mines, ports, accounts. They think that when they codify into formula a transaction halfway between that of dreamers among clouds and men of earthly appetites, they have created peace. They do not understand that the war has been made by the brutal will to dominate and that we will have more wars unless that will is crushed. It is not by mandates or covenants that we can transform the soul of a race of prey."

That German propaganda is being used in every direction to force concessions in the Peace Treaty, is shown in one instance, in the fact that Washington is said to be receiving confidential official cables that the war is not yet over and that a "secret war" is being supervised by Berlin, with the aid of labor in many directions will develop. In fact, the development has already taken place in some industries and occupations. On the farms nearly everywhere, there is a demand for more men. The idea of reduction of wage scales has been abandoned, a potent reason being that the price of foodstuffs is higher instead of lower than last year.

It is impossible to gauge the highly favorable effect which the growing assurance of big crops is having upon the general situation, and these prospects furnish the backbone of the optimism prevailing in industries and in the stock market. Wealth flowing in to the agricultural districts enriches the whole country through the return flow which always takes place, for the farming community is by necessity a spender. The farmer is constantly renewing his plant. He spends his new money on farm machinery, fencing, building material, automobiles. This year the amount will be very large.

In 1914, the six million odd farms of the United States produced crops of over $6,000,000,000 value—about $970 per farm. In 1917, the amount was $13,600,000,000 or more than $2,000 per farm. In 1918 the average per farm is estimated at $2,500, and will probably be $3,000 this year.

over those years to the time when as a young man, just married, I received the first real impetus to do a little better than I had been doing and in the words of the Good Book, do it with all my might. I was just 21 when I was married, and what do you think I was doing? Turning one arm of a big windlass that lifted the rocks into place in the foundations of one of the very bridges over which I came last week, and on the other arm of the windlass worked a big burly Irishman. Not a very remarkable work, but it brought me $1.50 every day and that was sufficient, in those days, to permit of marriage and comfort. Everybody had his own little garden, and raised most of his 'truck.' Everybody lived simply and generally one house sheltered large families; few people took their wages each week, but drew a little, now and then and the 'settling' up usually came after a job was completed. And as for me, I helped to raise most of the rocks that set the pilings for the bridge I spoke of. But we didn't work half the time; when a rock was to be set, we wound the big ropes about the windlass, and then waited until another rock was needed. And one day the foreman said to me, hammer and a chisel, and I began to foot round down in the yard, where the big rocks were being shaped for the buttresses. And this I did between whiles for a couple of weeks, or more. And one day the foreman said to me, 'Peter, you have begun on that rock. I rather want to see you finish it up; just keep a it, lad, till you get it to look like the others,' and that I did, and finally it was finished, and so far as I could see it looked as well as the rest of them. Without my knowing it the boss must have noticed what I was doing, for he came along to me that same day and said to me, 'You did that pretty well Peter; I guess you can stay right here in the yard and chip rocks, if you want to and I will get some other fellow to help Mike with the windlass.' And there I stayed for a good many weeks in that stone yard. At last the bridge was done and the men were laid off.

Hanson, of Boston, Mass., a parcel of land, being part of lot numbered thirty-seven in said Township Three, Range Four, W. E. L. S. in said County of Aroostook, described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point in and on the west line of said Township Three, Range Four, as per survey of Harry G. Hunt by deed dated Apr. 10, 1907, and recorded in Aroostook Registry of Deeds, Vol. 216, page 461, thence east one hundred and thirteen rods and eleven and one half feet to cedar stake and stones, thence south twenty degrees west, ninety-eight rods and twelve feet to a birch tree, thence north seventy degrees west, twenty-four rods and seven feet to a birch stake, thence west sixty-one rods, one and five-tenths feet to a birch tree in and on the west line of said township, thence northerly along the west line of said Township Three, Range Four, eighty-four rods and eight feet to the place of beginning, containing fifty-two acres, more or less, being the same premises conveyed to the said Clinton Dearborn by James Sleeper, by deed dated June 15, 1907, and recorded in said Registry. Also a part of lot numbered twenty-five in said Township Three, Range Four, in said county, described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a maple stake set in and on the west line of said Township Three, as per survey of Harry G. Tingley made Oct. 6, 1904, which stake is set just outside the northwest corner of the Clinton Dearborn opening, thence east fifty-six rods and fourteen feet, thence south eighty-five rods and three feet to a maple post, thence west fifty-six rods fourteen feet to the west line of said Township Three, Range Four, thence north eighty-five rods and three feet along the west line of said township to the place of beginning, containing three-seventeen acres, more or less, and being the same premises conveyed to said Clinton Dearborn by Frank W. Hunt, by deed dated Apr. 10, 1907, and whereof as the said Maude H. Hanson by her deed of assignment dated Nov. 22, 1916, and recorded in Vol. 283, page 223, of said Aroostook Registry of Deeds, conveyed to the undersigned, William H. Lewis, of Sherman, Aroostook County, Maine, the said mortgage deed and the debt thereby secured, and whereas the condition of said mortgage has been broken, now, therefore, by reason of the breach of the condition thereof, I claim a foreclosure of said mortgage.

Skowhegan, Maine, June 14, A. D. 1919.
WILLIAM H. LEWIS,
By Lewis & Lewis, his Attorneys duly authorized. 325

A night or two after that, the boss called at the house and said to me, 'Well, Peter, I guess we better settle up, hadn't we?' and I allowed that it might be well. 'How much do I owe you, Peter?' he asked, I told him; he frowned a bit and said he thought I was mistaken. I told him, no, I had worked so many days, at a dollar and a half a day, and had had so many dollars from the company and they owed me so much. He frowned again, and said he didn't make it that way at all, and I told him, all right, he was the boss, and probably what he said, went, though I could not see any mistake in the figures and went over them again. He grinned a little then and said to me: 'Well, you see the trouble is right here; you have been working for three dollars a day and you say it's only a dollar and a half. That man had let me work all Winter at my old wages as I had supposed, never thinking of anything else, when really he had promoted me to stone cutters' wages, which in those days were three dollars, the best paid men on the job. In those days a man who drew three dollars a day was bigger than a dollar-an-hour man round here today finds himself. It was a surprise to me, of course, and almost knocked me off my feet; but it taught me a lesson that I never forgot; that is, as I said before, 'whatsoever the hand finds to do, do that with all your might.' If you are winding a windlass, wind it the best you can, but keep your eyes open for something different, something more interesting and better and try it out at odd minutes. You never know how soon the boss may notice it and give you that better thing to do. That is the thing I try to impress on boys and girls, always; try to do something a little better, a little finer, all the time, for your own good as well as for the possible advancements that can come. And one more thing I tell my young folks always; a thing so important and yet so often left unnoticed. Never go back on your word no matter what it costs to keep it. If you agree to do a thing, do it, though it hurts like time. That's all the asset I had when I begun life, just the one thing of keeping to my agreements and if I am good for anything today it's because I have always done this one thing. Young folks today somehow have so many things to do they don't always 'keep their dates' as my Jim calls it, but it's an awful mistake. Be slow to promise, but once committed, stick to it."
